Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2014 and 2013

(Dollars in thousands)

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The University considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

(d) Contributions

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenues in the appropriate category of net assets in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions of assets other than cash are recorded at their estimated fair value at the date of the gift. Contributions to be received after one year are discounted using an appropriate rate for the expected period of collection. Amortization of the discount is recorded as additional contribution revenue. An allowance is made for estimated uncollectible contributions based on management's judgment and analysis of the creditworthiness of the donors, past collection experience, and other relevant factors.

(e) Investments

Investments are stated at their estimated fair values, which are generally determined based on quoted market prices. The carrying value of certain alternative equity and fixed income investments held through limited partnerships and hedge funds is recorded at net asset value as provided by the fund managers or the general partners, unless the University plans to sell an investment in the near term at a value other than the net asset value as provided by the fund manager or the general partners. These estimated values, which are evaluated for reasonableness by the University, may differ from the values that would have been used had a ready market existed; the differences could be significant.

(f) Deposits with Bond Trustees

Deposits with bond trustees consist of a debt service sinking fund. This fund is invested primarily in short-term, highly liquid securities and will be used for payment of debt service.

(g) Student Loan Receivables

Student loan receivables consist of loans to students, which are made from the University's loan funds and the Federal Perkins Loan Program. The loans are reported at their estimated net realizable value. The allowance for uncollectible loans was $411 at May 31, 2014 and 2013.

(h) Land, Buildings, and Equipment

Land, buildings, and equipment are stated at cost, if purchased, or at estimated fair value at date of gift, if donated. Generally, the costs of maintenance and repairs are charged to expense when incurred, while major acquisitions, additions, renewals, and betterments are capitalized. Depreciation of buildings and equipment is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets.

(n) Income Tax Status

The University is qualified as a not-for-profit organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. Accordingly, the University is not subject to income taxes except to the extent it has taxable income from activities that are not related to its exempt purpose. No provision for income taxes was required for fiscal years 2014 or 2013.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require management to evaluate tax positions taken by the University and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the University has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken by the University, and has concluded that as of May 31, 2014, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) administered by the University under federal government loan programs is not practical because the receivables can only be assigned to the U.S. government or its designees.

Contributions receivable: The fair value is determined as the present value of future cash receipts discounted at an interest rate that reflects the risks inherent in those cash flows based on Level 3 inputs (notes 1(d) and 2).

Interest in perpetual trust: The fair value is determined as the University's percentage interest in the year-end fair value of the underlying investment securities of the trust.

(4) Investments

Investments are professionally managed by outside investment organizations subject to direction and oversight by a committee of the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees has established investment policies and guidelines, which cover asset allocation and performance objectives and impose various restrictions and limitations on the managers. These restrictions and limitations are specific to each asset classification and cover concentrations of market risk (at both the individual issuer and industry group levels), credit quality of fixed income and short-term investments, and various other matters.

Investments are exposed to certain risks, such as interest rate, credit, and overall market volatility. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, changes in the value of investment securities could occur in the near term, and these changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the accompanying financial statements.

(Dollars in thousands)

On June 26, 2012, MHHEFA issued a tax-exempt bond with a par value of $32,595 (Series 2012B bonds). Approximately $32,510 of these proceeds was used to retire the remaining Series 2008 bonds outstanding at May 31, 2012. The remaining proceeds were used to fund debt issuance costs.

The covenants on the Series 1996B, 2006A, 2012A, and 2012B bonds restrict the sale of assets and include other requirements as defined in the agreement. The University was in compliance with its covenants as of May 31, 2014 and 2013.

Interest costs on long-term debt, net of amounts capitalized, were $6,777 and $6,923 in 2014 and 2013, respectively. No amounts were capitalized in 2014 and 2013.

The University receives a floating rate based on 67% of LIBOR and pays at 3.25%. Settlement occurs monthly, and payments made or received under the swap agreement are recognized as an increase or decrease in the related interest expense.

The fair value of the interest rate swap was a liability of $3,896 and $4,616 as of May 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and is included in other liabilities on the balance sheets.
